TYPE OF ACTIVITY	As an organization with social concern, AWWA has embarked upon a programme to educate underprivileged women who face multiple hardships of class, caste and gender. By imparting skill useful in gaining livelihood, these helpless creatures could so easily become tools to bring about a transformation in society. They can truly achieve emancipation from the yoke of caste discrimination. Educated and uneducated alike, there continues to be restricted (almost non-existent) employment opportunities due to ongoing discrimination, lack of education, experience and confidence. One of the best ways to empower these people is to provide them with skills they need to become independent and thrive. Over the last 3 years, utilizing our summer camps, more than 200 women have now learned special skills and we continue to work in both urban and rural areas offering training in such areas as. Kasuti embroidery Zari embroidery beauty culture cutting & tailoring sari & bed sheet painting. Soft toy making embroidery pot decoration banjara work mehandi design conducting exhibitions of work we are

	providing all these activities voluntarily with the help of donors we have provided support to poor and marginalized people. as an organization for social concern we set up training centeres (Affus Arts and Crafts Centers) at, Hubli in Karnataka and Hyderabad, Andhra Pradesh offering skills development for orphans, vulnerable women and children.
